

The Project Greer Street (PGS) program outcomes speak for themselves with the 100% college acceptance rate, number and quality of college admissions, and multi-million-dollar total of scholarships and grants earned by the students. While there are several keys to the program's success during the past decade, the singular consistent and unrelenting influence that has been present throughout is the leadership of Ron Sally. He cares deeply about each student and has fostered the high standards of academic rigor, life competitiveness, work ethic, and morally conscious leadership that is required to be successful in our world.

As a member of the Board of Wisdom, I am excited about helping Ron and the PGS program scale their impact and continue to help our communities build tomorrow's leaders, and a healthier more equitable society.
